'Overture' Benefit Held This Weekend with Great Success

Families and friends of Moorestown School of Music attended this year's Overture Benefit reception, this past Saturday evening. Overture provides funds for both scholarships and for the School's programs. This year's guests were entertained with informal musical performances by faculty members and students.

The event was organized with the help of Jill DiBiase, Suzanne Zekavat, Laura Aberant, Deborah Ingravallo, Chesca Mayser, Maria Gilfillan, and Lauren Romano. The first Overture in March 2002 celebrated the school's receipt of its IRS determination that the Moorestown School of Music qualified as a 501(c)(3) Not-for-Profit entity. The Overture benefit has been held each March since.

Moorestown School of Music's mission is "to plant the seeds of musical growth by creating a nurturing community of parents, teachers and students." Located at 301 Union Street in Moorestown, the school serves more than 70 families with Suzuki method lessons for cello, violin and piano. Moorestown School of Music also hosts the Music Together™ preschool program that serves an additional 90 families, and the Walden School Musicianship Course, a creative theory course for ages 8-18. These programs implement the school's philosophy that a joyful, positive environment creates exceptional abilities in individuals of all ages and backgrounds, thus enhancing the community at large.

The next event to support Moorestown School of Music will be a concert by piano faculty member Tina Surrency to be held later this spring, April 11, 2008 at 5:30. For more information on our upcoming events please contact, Moorestown School of Music, (856)235-7565, or email info@msmnj.org
